Visit summary - Sam Rivera

Tue 4 Nov, 9:20 - Dr Okafor, Riverside Clinic

MAIN REASON FOR THE VISIT

Headaches most mornings for the last 3 weeks

Worried it might be: My blood pressure, because my dad had a stroke
Hoping for: To find out what is causing it

SYMPTOMS

- Headache (Behind the eyes, both sides) - 6/10, worse
Started: About 3 weeks ago How often: Most mornings, 2-3 hours Better with: Paracetamol, lying in the dark Worse with: Bending over, bright light
- Blurry vision (Both eyes) - 3/10, the same
Started: Last week How often: With the headaches

TIMELINE

- 12 Oct: First headache, after a cold
- 20 Oct: Started waking up with it every morning

EFFECT ON DAILY LIFE

Missed 2 days of work and I wake up with it at 5 am

ALREADY TRIED

Paracetamol helps for a few hours. Less screen time made no difference

MEDICINES AND ALLERGIES

- Salbutamol inhaler, 100 mcg, 2 puffs, When needed, about twice a week, for Asthma
- Paracetamol, 1 g, Most days for 2 weeks, for Headache

Allergies: Penicillin - rash

MEDICAL AND FAMILY HISTORY

Asthma since childhood. Father: high blood pressure, stroke at 60

MY QUESTIONS

1. * Could this be my blood pressure?
2. * Do I need any tests? What will they show?
3. * What should I watch for, and when should I come back or call?
4. Is it safe to keep taking paracetamol every day?
5. What happens if I wait and do nothing?
